It is no exaggeration to state that Mrs. Pinkham has over 5000 letters like the following proving the great value of her medicine at such times. "I wish to thank Mrs. Pinkham for

Hot flashes were very frequent and trying. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken six bottles of it and am to-day free from those troubles. I cannot speak in high enough terms of the medicine. I recommend it to all

The agent shook his head regretful-"No go," said he; "he was afraid he might not get the full value of his investment." "What could be mean by saying that? Confound it, a man must die some time, even though he is a millionalre."

"That's what I told him," replied the agent, "but he only answered, Suppose I should be lost at sea?"

Faking Used Stamps. Rogues in this country are generally about as artful as we desire them to be, but evidently they have something to learn yet from the heathen Chince. In West Java Ah Sin manages to cheat the postoffice very ingeniously. On sticking a new stamp on an envelope he smears the stamp on the face with paste or a thin give. This takes the impression of the de-facing stamp at the postoffice, and can easily be washed off, so that the stamp is once more serviceable.

tion of God-under suspicious circumstances" - Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Heaven Had Its Limits. There was once a Boston woman, says Congressman Powers of Massachussetts, who had afternoon teas, belonged to a Browning club, fell ill, and finally died. When she had been in heaven some days her husband called her up through a spiritualist, "Well, my dear," inquired the husband, "how do you like heaven?" "Very well," she replied, "We have afternoon teas here, and also a Browning thul. But, after all, Henry, it's not Boston."-New
